Announcing “Running 4 President”™ Feature Film, Sneak Previews

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, February 16, 2009 – On this Presidents Day, two full years after casting officially started, sneak previews of the locally produced feature film “Running 4 President”™ are now being scheduled for March 2009. Specific dates and times will be announced at www.R4Pmovie.com by noon on March 1, 2009. The movie is currently wrapping up post-production and scheduled for pre-release on February 28, 2009. Limited preview copies will be available March 2, 2009 through Glenbrook Studios®.

Written by Marko Sakren, Ely Bascoy and Nathan Gomez, based on a story by Michael M. Meade, “Running 4 President” began production on August 1, 2008, with a script that was developed and revised multiple times since 2004. The story takes place in Las Vegas in June and July of 2008, and depicts Todd and Dale, two barely educated college grads turned slackers, as they try to save their failing business (AirHedz Oxygen Bar™ www.AirHedzBar.com™) that is run out of the manicure shop of Harriet, a friend of Todd’s father (Hey, it was the best deal they could land as budding entrepreneurs at the time). One of their ideas involved opening their shop to the American people for anyone to run for President of the United States, as a patriotic-style promotion for their business. The idea, intended as a publicity stunt, turned into a grassroots political movement that swept the country. When the actual (in the movie) national candidates began feeling threatened, they escalated the stakes. “It’s just plain fun,” says Marko Sakren, the film’s Executive Producer and Director.

A Glenbrook Studios® production, “Running 4 President” is produced by Teri Dukas and Matt Kautsky and stars local Las Vegas actors Griffin Stanton-Ameisen (who plays Todd), John E. Carson (who plays Dale), Carole J. Hannon, J.D. Smith, Liana Alexandra and Sergio Garcia. A premiere is not yet scheduled but will be announced when secured.
